Sisters by Kathy Schicker

An exhibition of textiles by Kathy Schicker documenting a 6-month residency at GlaxoSmithKline's Research & Development base in Harlow. During her stay at GSK, Kathy has explored the concepts and processes behind drug discovery.

The final result of her residency will be an image-based textile woven on a digital Jacquard loom. This will be the centrepiece of an exhibition that explores the work of GSK as well as displaying Kathy's recent textiles focusing on family memories and loss.

During the residency Kathy has been nurturing the creativity of GSK staff with felt making and print workshops as well as giving staff the opportunity to use digital software to develop their own weave designs from photos.
